

ABSTRACT

Thesis first (bachelor) level of higher education on «Improving the logistics of the enterprise in an unstable environment (for example, JSC «Knitting Factory «Rose»»». Bachelor's thesis includes 86 pages, 38 tables, 19 drawings, 2 attachments. The bibliography list consists of 37 items.

Purpose of the thesis is the study of theoretical and methodological approaches, develop practical recommendations to improve the logistics of the company.

In carrying out the thesis educational qualification of «Bachelor» were used several methods. In studying the theoretical foundations of logistics research and practical aspects of logistics activities were used:

- economic analysis - analysis of financial and economic activity of the company;
- statistical analysis - for visual presentation of indicators in dynamics and opportunities for further analysis;
- the method of comparison - to evaluate and select the most optimal variant;
- graphic method - for visual presentation research results;
- analytical method - to summarize the information and efficiency of future research.

The result of this work is to study the theoretical aspects of logistics and logistics development of the company. And also create a project to improve the logistics of the enterprise JSC "Knitting Factory" Rose "and rationale of the proposed measures.

The proposed improvement measures in the logistics of the enterprise can be used by domestic enterprises specializing in the production of light industry. Results of the study will allow the company to improve logistics operations.

The management of JSC «Knitting Factory «Rose» proposed recommendations used in the thesis of logistics enterprises in an unstable environment (implementation act number 98 of 05/23/16 g.).

Keywords: logistics activities, the instability of the environment, improving, transport logistics, efficiency.